

ANGAZA

THE RWANDAN ECO-BRAND

THE ANGAZA STORY

Angaza is a Swahili word that means “to illuminate” or “to shed light upon”. Angaza wants to be at the forefront of environmental solutions in Rwanda, by shedding light on to newer concepts. We consider what we are currently doing as “creative waste management” where waste is viewed as treasure. This is done by upcycling Kigali’s non-biodegradable waste like discarded advertising materials like vinyl banners and tear drop material and jute rice bags. The waste is then transformed into beautiful one-of-a-kind personal accessories like wallets, tote bags, crossbody bags, laptop bags among others. These accessories are lined with Kitenge fabric which has been used for years in Africa as a preferred fabric for almost anything!

Angaza products are made for people who are bold and love color. People who feel that convention is boring and who want to make the world a better place
