

Sol Organica

As a Certified B Corporation and leader of this emerging economy, this company is committed to being a change agent; ensuring that its actions prioritize communities and the planet; benefiting all people through its practices, products, and services. To achieve this, this company will practice interdependence, taking responsibility for those around them, as well as for future generations.

Initial certification date: March 6, 2017.

Recertification date: November 4, 2024.

The B Corporation
Certification is granted by

The B Corp movement in Latin America and the Caribbean is driven by

