

STORRISS.UA —

Ukraine's first multilingual platform for short stories with adaptive AI narration

We turn reading into an immersive experience. Every story is available in text format and as a high-quality audiobook generated by artificial intelligence.

All content is available in Ukrainian, English, and German to reach a global audience.

Barrier-free accessibility

Our platform has an important social component. We provide completely free access to all content for people with disabilities.

AI narration is becoming a key tool for people with visual impairments, opening up the world of modern literature to them without any financial barriers. Status verification occurs instantly through integration with the Diia app.

Freemium model:

For every novella on the platform, the rule is: the first part is always free. This allows readers to assess the author's style and the quality of the narration before purchasing.

Monetization of sequels:

Access to the second and subsequent parts is unlocked using the internal currency—"Coins." This encourages authors to create compelling stories and readers to consciously support their favorite content.

Random Novel of the Day:

Every day, the algorithm selects one paid novel that becomes completely free for everyone for 24 hours. This fosters a habit of daily platform use and gives authors a chance to gain explosive reach.

Flexibility and control for every reader

Novel rental:

Access to the story at a minimal price for a limited time (7 days).

Buy forever:

The story remains in your personal library forever.

Bundle offers:

Great value coin bundles for active listeners with discounts of up to 30%.

Your path from draft to bestseller

Monetizing drafts:

Start earning while you write by selling access to new chapters via subscription.

Protection against piracy:

Gradual publication makes copying content technically difficult and unprofitable for pirate sites.

Artist and Technology:

The author automatically receives a professional audio version of their work without the cost of a studio or voice actors.

Feedback:

Interact with fans in the comments section of each chapter and track statistics in real time.
